Adapted Sports Program

The American Association of Adapted Sports Programs (AAASP) is offering a Wheelchair Football clinic for school age children with physical disabilities. The clinic will focus on teaching football skills-both on the offense (passing and receiving) and on defense (blocking and pass coverage).

The clinic, led by former Atlanta Falcons Linebacker Buddy Curry (Falcons 1980-1987), and Atlanta Falcons Defensive Back Bobby Butler (1981-1993), is open any student with a physical disability who would like to learn more about the sport of wheelchair football and to all current AAASP school adapted sports teams.

Children who walk unassisted, with assistive devices or use a power or manual chair may participate. A limited number of chairs will be available for those who do not use a chair on a regular basis. Open to elementary, middle and high school students. Come join us for a night of fun, safe, great exercise!

To sign up: Email Robyn Hootselle at rhootselle@adaptedsports.org. Include your name, school, age, disability and contact information.

The American Association of Adapted Sports Programs, Inc. works in partnership with school systems and educational agencies in the U.S. providing programs, policies and governance of interscholastic adapted sports for students with physical disabilities to enhance educational outcomes. AAASP has nearly two decades of tested, reasonable and compliant school based adapted sports.

AAASP is a 501 (C) (3) not-for-profit organization.
